This auction is conducted by Morton & Eden Ltd. in accordance with our Conditions of Business printed at the back of this catalogue.

All questions and comments relating to the operation of this sale or to its content should be addressed to Morton & Eden Ltd. and not to Sotheby's.

Important Information for Buyers

All lots are offered subject to Morton & Eden Ltd.'s Conditions of Business and to reserves.

Estimates are published as a guide only and are subject to review. The actual hammer price of a lot may well be higher or lower than the range of figures given and there are no fixed "starting prices".

A Buyer's Premium of 15% is applicable to all lots in this sale. Excepting lots sold under Temporary Import rules which are marked with the symbol ‡ (see below), the Buyer's Premium is subject to VAT at the standard rate (currently 17½%). Unless otherwise indicated, lots are offered for sale under the auctioneer's margin scheme and VAT on the Buyer's Premium is payable by all buyers.

Lots marked with the symbol ‡ have been imported from outside the European Union (EU) to be sold at auction under Temporary Import Rules. When released to buyers within the EU, including the UK, the buyer will become the importer and must pay import VAT at the rate of 5% on both the hammer price and the Buyer's Premium. In effect this means that the invoice total for most EU buyers, including the Buyer's Premium, will be at the level of the hammer price + 20.75% (i.e. just over 3% higher than the rate of 17.625% which typically applies to lots sold under the domestic Auctioneer's Margin VAT scheme). Buyers outside the EU will not be required to pay temporary import VAT provided that satisfactory documentary evidence of exportation is obtained. Further information on this matter is available on request.

Morton & Eden Ltd. will be pleased to execute bids on behalf of those clients unable to attend the sale in person, subject to our Conditions of Business. All bids must be submitted in writing in good time and lots will always be purchased as cheaply as possible (depending on any other bids received, reserves and competition in the saleroom). This service is offered free of charge.

Morton & Eden Ltd. can supply quotations for the shipping of purchases, including transit insurance and VAT refund administration fees, and will assist in the application for any export licences which may be required. Buyers are reminded that it is their responsibility to comply with UK export regulations and with any local import requirements.

Payment Instructions

Payment is due in sterling at the conclusion of the sale and before purchases can be released. Please note that we require seven days to clear sterling cheques unless special arrangements have been made in advance of the sale. We are pleased to accept major credit cards, for which a surcharge will be made of 3% of the transaction total. There is no charge for payments made by debit card.

Electronic transfers (in sterling) may be sent directly to our bank:

CAPTAIN GEORGE AUGUSTUS GRAHAM was born in 1833, the fourth son of Colonel Charles Graham C.B. (see lot 8). Entering the 28th Bengal Native Infantry as an Ensign in December 1851, he was promoted to Lieutenant in October 1854. He served during the Bozdar Expedition in March 1857 and was present at the forcing of the Khan Bund, for which he received the thanks of the Bengal Government on 28 January 1858. Lieutenant Graham was present at the attack on Shaick Jana at Eussuffzaie, under Lieutenant Colonel Vaughan, and commanded the Head Quarters and a Detachment of 2nd Punjab Cavalry. He was favourably mentioned in Vaughan's dispatches of 2 July 1857, and was promoted to Captain in June of the same year.

On leaving the Indian Army shortly afterwards Captain Graham collected the last remaining specimens of the Irish wolfhound and over a period of 23 years, with judicious out-crossing, re-established the breed, collecting over 300 pedigree Irish Wolfhounds. In 1879 he published the book The Irish Wolfhound, which set exacting standards for the quality of the breed, and in 1885 founded the Irish Wolfhound Club, serving as its president until 1908. Captain Graham died in 1909.

LIEUTENANT CHARLES NOEL ANDREWS GRAHAM, Mounted Infantry, 3rd Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers, died 13 October 1901, at Middleburg, Transvaal, of wounds received in action near Koornfontein, 28 August 1901. He was the only son of Major-General Frederick William Graham (see lot 57). He was born in September 1879 and educated at Eton, where he was a 2nd Lieutenant in the School Corps, and Oxford. He entered the Northumberland Fusiliers from 5th Battalion Rifle Brigade in March 1900, being promoted to Lieutenant the following August. Soon after joining he was appointed assistant adjutant to his battalion. In February 1901, a mounted infantry company was formed; Lieutenant Graham joined it and proceeded to South Africa, serving with the company up to his death. While being carried from the field wounded and under heavy fire, he heard a shout: "Another man hit." In terrible pain and weak, he directed his bearers to leave him and look after the other wounded man; "His one thought," his commanding officer wrote, "was always for others."

Why Lieutenant Graham received the 1902 clasp is unclear, presumably due to an administrative error.

This lot forms part of a family group; see also lots 8, 57, 61, 122 and 220.

'In April 1914…I accordingly joined the Glasgow Highlanders without consulting my parents…'

'The Battalion left Dunfermline for France on 2nd November 1914. I was left behind because of my youth and because the under age limit was 19. I actually left Dunfermline for France on my 19th birthday, 26th June 1915…'

'…The 1st Day of July 1916 was the first day of the battle of the Somme and shelling right along the front had commenced just before sunrise. The German artillery naturally replied and where I was I couldn't escape the German and our own shells, and to this day, I don't know whether it was a German or a British bullet that got me. My job along with other H.L.I. boys was to carry sand bags that had been filled in the mine along a distance of 10 to 15 yards to another man who handed them on to another, and so on until they were finally deposited in shell holes at night time. My last words before I was hit were; "I don't mind getting it in the arm or the leg, but I don't want it in the head." No sooner had these words been spoken than I got it in the head. The shrapnel bullet, which I still have in a drawer, pierced my steel helmet and, with a piece of my helmet lodged in my head. Fortunately for me, my pal, Tommy McKenzie, was nearby and he caught me as I was falling. He told me I was shouting "Mother, Mother." I recovered consciousness in the trench and remember having the bullet and piece of helmet taken from (my) head and walking down the communication to the Clearing Station. I had a cup of tea and was then placed on a stretcher, just to sleep away to unconsciousness. I ultimately recovered consciousness on the 15th day of July 1916 a full fortnight after I had been hit.'

WARRANT OFFICER ROY MAURICE TARRANT was killed when the Ventura in which he was flying crashed on landing on the Pallikule landing ground, Espiritu Sante, New Caledonia, 9 July 1944.

Warrant Officer Tarrant was born in Hamilton, New Zealand on 12 November 1915. He enlisted in the R.N.Z.A.F. on 12 March 1940 and was selected an Air Gunner. Following three months training at No. 12 Operational Training Unit, Chakea, he received his Air Gunner's Badge and promotion to Sergeant, and was subsequently sent overseas to Great Britain for training at No. 15 Operational Training Unit, R.A.F. Harwell. In August he joined 38 Squadron at Marham, Norfolk, serving in Wellingtons as an Air Gunner. From September until November he flew on missions over Germany, Belgium and Northern France.

In November 1940 he transferred to 15 Squadron, Wyton, where he completed a further five months of operations. On 13 April 1941 he was sent to Shallufa, Egypt, where he was attached to 38 Squadron. He took part in raids on North Africa, Crete and the Ionian Islands. In August his Flight moved to Malta, carrying out operations on Tripoli, returning to Shallufa early in September. In February 1942 he returned to England, taking up duties as an instructor at No. 7 Air Gunners' School, Wales, having completed 39 operations.

In April 1943 Tarrant was promoted to Warrant Officer and posted to No. 9 Air Observers School. Five months later he returned to New Zealand following almost three and a half years' absence and on completing a period of leave, was posted to No. 3 General Reconnaissance Squadron, Ohakea for duty as an Air Gunner in Venturas. On 22 May 1944 he was posted to Espiritu Sante, participating in routine patrols. At the time of his death he had served 640 hours as an Air Gunner.

The medals are contained in a glazed frame with two photographs, one of his Wellington bomber and one with his crew, four flashes, an R.N.Z.A.F. cap badge, three R.N.Z.A.F. buttons, and gilt eagle and crown badges. A second glazed frame contains the original telegram announcing his death and a letter, dated the same day, confirming the telegram, signed by P.O. A.H.A. McLean, as well as a letter from the Air Department, Wellington, enclosing a photograph of his grave at the New Zealand Military Cemetery, Bourail, and a newspaper cutting with photograph announcing his death.

The group is also sold with a binder containing a considerable amount of photocopied documentation, including many entries from 38 and 15 Squadron Operation Record Books.

The Royal Body Guard, an octagonal Royal Worcester plate, dated 1879, from the Royal Body Guard Service with gilt decorated blue glaze border, the centre with Royal Body Guard Motif, in good condition £100-150

The Honourable Corps of Gentlemen-at-Arms; The Royal Body Guard was instituted at the accession of Henry VIII in 1509. It was to be the guard in closest personal attendance to the monarch, and the portcullis was conferred on the corps as its personal badge. While the corps maintained military characteristics during its centuries of existence, it was not until the reign of William IV that the practice of filling vacancies by officers selected from a list maintained by the Commander in Chief of the Army was instigated.

A new mess was established by Lord Foley, Captain of the Corps, in 1840, with a mess and ante room in St. James Palace.

Painting: 'The Shape of Things to Come,' an original watercolour by Stanley Orton Bradshaw, depicting a squadron of Hurricanes diving to the attack on manoeuvres in 1939, signed in full in red ink and dated '39, 49.5 x 34.5 cm., framed and glazed, minor foxing, otherwise in good condition £300-500

STANLEY ORTON BRADSHAW was born in 1903 and learned to fly at the London Aeroplane Club in 1926. He worked as an aviation journalist for The Aeroplane. In the early stages of the war he served in the A.R.P. service at Stanmore. Afterwards he was able to put his flying experience to good use with the Air Transport Auxiliary - being too old for service with the R.A.F.- and had flown approximately 70 different types of aircraft by the end of hostilities. After the war he returned to aviation journalism and was appointed editor of the Light Plane in 1947. Bradshaw became an enthusiastic lobbyist on behalf of civil flying clubs and a frequent visitor to air shows. Tragically, on one such occasion in June 1950, he was killed in an accident while piloting a borrowed aircraft.

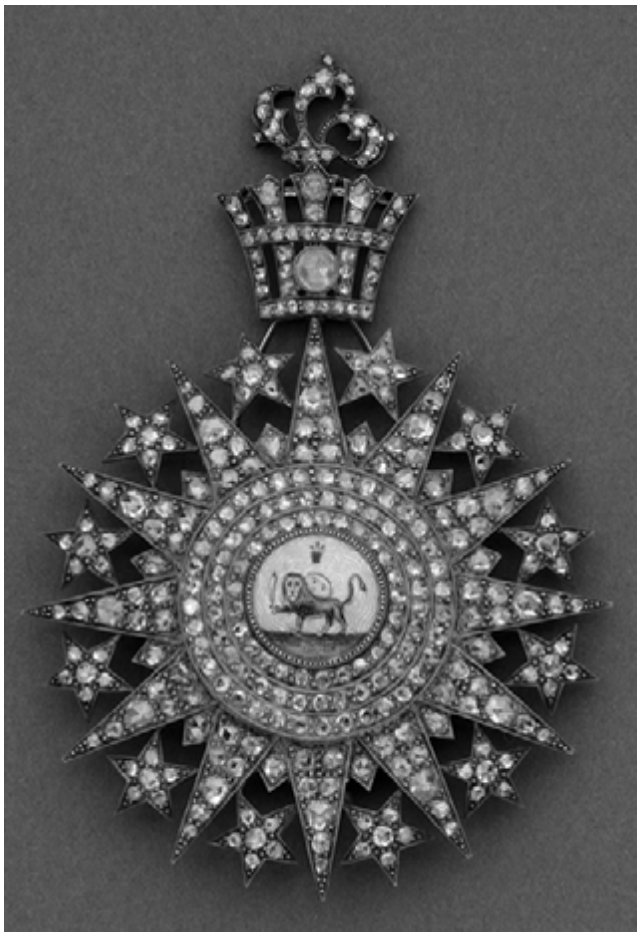
IMPORTANT QAJAR, PAHLAVI AND OTTOMAN ORDERS



‡425
Qajar, Order of the Lion and Sun (Homayoun), Military Division, superior grade of Agdas (the most sacred), gold and diamond set badge, of European manufacture (probably French), late 19th century, the central enamelled badge surrounded by three rows of diamonds, twelve diamond set rays around, with a diamond set five pointed star between each ray, surmounted with a diamond set crown with a floral aigrette above, 115mm, with pin-back suspension, extremely fine and of the highest rarity £8,000-12,000

Ex Sotheby's Islamic Art auction, 16 October 1997, lot 69. The badge is also featured in Qajar Portraits, Julian Raby, Azimuth editions, London 1999, fig. 106.

THE SUPREME ORDER OF AGDAS was instituted in 1860 as the highest grade of the Order of the Lion and Sun. It was intended for sovereigns and when worn by the Shah himself it was carried from a light blue sash. It was also awarded to Prime Ministers and Princes, when it was worn with a blue-edged green sash.

See also colour illustration on inside front cover.

Qajar, Order of the Lion and Sun (Homayoun), Military Division, third quarter of the 19th century, probably of Iranian manufacture, small sized superior grade of Agdas, in gold, the enamelled centre with lion, brandishing sword, and sun with three-pointed crown above, the ten rayed badge surmounted with a gold crown, 51mm, minor enamel damage, otherwise extremely fine and of the highest rarity £4,000-6,000

See also colour illustration on inside front cover.

Qajar, Order of the Lion and Sun (Homayoun), Civil Division, mid-19th century, of Iranian manufacture, superior grade breast badge, in gold, the centre bearing a lion couchant and sun in gold and enamels, surrounded by a gold ten rayed badge, 53.5mm, extremely fine and of the highest rarity £3,000-5,000

See also colour illustration on inside front cover.

Qajar, Order of the Lion and Sun (Homayoun), superior grade of the Imperial Effigy, a magnificent jewelled neck badge, Nasir al-Din Shah issue, of Iranian manufacture, late 19th century, comprising a gold badge with a glazed oval portrait miniature of Nasir al-Din Shah surrounded by three rows of rose diamonds, around an elaborate wreath in the form of an olive branch surmounted by an ornate crowned scroll of roses, all set with diamonds of varying sizes, 148mm high including suspension, minor trace of repair to one facet diamond of the lower left wreath, good very fine and extremely rare £7,000-9,000

THE DECORATION OF THE IMPERIAL EFFIGY was first mentioned in the statutes of 1848 when it was incorporated into the Order of the Lion and Sun as a superior grade. Interestingly, this was the only Qajar order on which jewels were not forbidden by law: 'The decoration with the Imperial Effigy alone is exempted from this rule, because of the respect due to the portrait of His Majesty, which demands that it should be surrounded by jewels.' Under the same statutes, the Order was extended to foreigners of exalted rank. By the beginning of the 20th century, the order of the Imperial Effigy was extended to three classes, with three rows of diamonds surrounding the effigy in the 1st class, two in the 2nd and one row in the 3rd class.

Qajar, Order of Sun (Nishan-i Aftab), set of insignia, of European manufacture (probably French), late 19th century, in silver with gold and enamel centre, comprising semi-circular sash badge and circular breast star, the central enamelled female face with a circle of diamonds around, the rays of the badge and the star and the suspension of the badge all set with diamonds of varying size, the badge 70 x 60mm, star 70mm, contained in a Samiomamalek of Teheran red leather case, extremely fine and very rare (2) £6,000-8,000

Ex Bonham's Islamic Works of Art Auction, 29 April 1998, lot 230. The set is also featured in Qajar Portraits, Julian Raby, Azimuth editions, London 1999, figure 108

THE ORDER OF THE SUN was founded by Nasir-al-Din Shah during his first European Visit in 1873 and was originally awarded solely to queens regnant. The badge was worn on a pink riband with two narrow green stripes either side. Queen Victoria was one of the first recipients and the Order was later bestowed on Queen Alexandra in 1902 and the future Queen Mary in 1904. The badge from the latter is in the Royal Collection and was on display in the Windsor Castle exhibition of 1997. By the early 20th century it was extended to the wives of senior diplomats (compare the set awarded to Sabina Maissa, wife of Felice Maissa, Italian ambassador to Teheran from 1901-04, Sotheby's Geneva, 17 November 1994, lot 88, and the star awarded to Lady Lucia Marling, wife of Sir Charles Marling, British ambassador to Teheran during the Great War, Christie's, 2 October 1991, lot 189).

See also colour illustration on inside back cover.

Qajar, Order of the Sun (Nishan-i Aftab), breast star, of Iranian manufacture, late 19th century, in silver, with enamel centre, the central enamelled face with a circle of diamonds around, the rays set with diamonds of varying size, 76mm, four diamonds from the rays lacking, otherwise good very fine and very rare £3,500-4,500

Ex Bonham's Islamic Works of Art auction, 29 April 1998, lot 229. The set is also featured in Qajar Portraits, Julian Raby, Azimuth editions, London 1999, figure 107.

THE ORDER OF PAHLAVI was founded by Reza Shah on his election to the throne of Iran in 1925. It came in two classes: the 1st class was reserved for the Shah and senior members of the royal family, reigning monarchs and foreign heads of state, while the 2nd class was awarded to other male members of the royal family and foreign crown princes.

Pahlavi, Order of the Pleiades (Haft Paykar), 2nd class breast star, in silver-gilt and enamels, the central seven stars of the Pleiades in gold on a blue enamel background, 65mm, retaining pin hallmarked, minor enamel damage, good very fine and rare £600-800

THE ORDER OF THE PLEIADES was founded by Mohammed Reza Shah in 1957 as an award to distinguished and high born ladies. It came in three classes: the 1st class was reserved for queens and wives of foreign heads of state; the 2nd class was restricted to princesses, and the 3rd class was presented to distinguished ladies.

Pahlavi, Order of the Taj, 5th class breast badge, in silver-gilt and enamels, 45 mm, points chipped, very fine; Order of the Lion and Sun (Homayoun), Military Division, 5th class badge, by Arthus Bertrand of Paris, in silver, with gilt and enamel centre, 58mm, good very fine (2) £80-120

THE ORDER OF THE TAJ was founded by Mohammed Reza Shah in 1941 and came in five classes. The Grand Cross was limited to ten Iranian nationals of cabinet rank and entitled the recipient to a state funeral. The other four classes were awarded to both Iranian government officials and foreigners for outstanding service to Iran.

Pahlavi, Order of the Lion and Sun (Homayoun), Military Division, grand cross breast star, in silver, with gilt and enamel centre, with eight green enamel stripes running from the point of each ray, 96mm, retaining pin hallmarked, minor enamel damage, good very fine £300-400

THE ORDER OF THE LION AND SUN was re-founded in 1925 by Reza Shah.

Ottoman, Order of Osmanie, 1st class (Special Distinction) diamond set sash badge, circa 1900, in gold and enamels, each ray of the seven-pointed green enamel star with a three pointed leaf between, each leaf set with rose diamonds, 62mm, extremely fine and rare in this class £3,000-4,000

THE ORDER OF OSMANIE was founded by Abdul Aziz in 1862; it was awarded in four classes for services to the empire. When awarded to Ottoman subjects it was intended to reflect outstanding achievements in government service. It was also available to foreign recipients, especially servicemen and diplomats. The Grand Cross insignia could be diamond set when awarded for Special Distinction.

See also colour illustration on inside back cover.

Bestowed on George Baker of G. & A. Baker Ltd., Constantinople.

Baker, born in North London in 1822, originally trained as a gardener, working in various gardens before moving to the Exotic Nursery, Kings Road, Chelsea. In 1847 he secured a position assisting in the laying out of the garden at the British Embassy's summer residence in Therapia on the Bosphorus and, on his outward journey took a collection of fruit trees destined for the Sultan, Abdul Medjid. Subsequently he worked on the garden at the new embassy at Constantinople (being rebuilt after a disastrous fire) opened a plant nursery and is credited with introducing wisteria to Turkey. During the 1850s he broadened his horizons, importing textiles from England with the aid of his brother James and in 1867 opened a second shop in partnership with a Mr Hayden. This partnership was later dissolved but the business prospered, expanding to become a department store, the first in Turkey, stocking an immense variety of imported goods including Baker's Perfection - a lock stitch sewing machine, mangles, mackintoshes, and pianos which divided into four for ease of shipping. The business traded under the name of G. & A. Baker, the A standing for one of his sons, Arthur. Two other sons George Percival and James gave their names to the renowned firm of G.P. & J. Baker. By the early 20th century these family businesses had become pre-eminent in the fields of Oriental carpets and textiles employing designers such as C.F.A. Voysey and L.P Butterfield and supplying firms such as Liberty & Co. (From East to West Textiles from G.P & J. Baker, Victoria & Albert Museum exhibition 1984).

George Baker achieved considerable prominence in the British community living in Constantinople, and was a great supporter of the Turkish people. He built himself a house on the edge of the Bosphorus where he lived with his wife and large family, spending the summer on the island of Halki in the Sea of Marmora. His standing in the Ottoman Court was such that he was awarded several honours, including the Order of the Medjidjie. His wife too was honoured, the Sultan personally presenting her with a 12 pointed diamond brooch.

For Great War medals awarded to Baker's grandsons, see lot 317.

Vickary [sic] Coldstream Guards), Crimea 1854-56, 4 clasps, Alma, Balaklava, Inkermann, Sebastopol (depot impressed S. Vickery Coldm. Guards), Turkish Crimea, British issue (unnamed), first two with edge bruising, otherwise very fine, sold with Coldstream Guards rectangular brass shoulder belt plate (4) £6,000-8,000

Distinguished Conduct Medal recommended 2 April 1855, for gallantry at the Battle of Inkermann, 5 November 1854; also granted a gratuity of five pounds. The medal was ordered on 5 May 1855. 16 Crimean Distinguished Conduct Medals were awarded to the Coldstream Guards.

SAMUEL VICKERY was born in Kenton, Devon, on August 1826. He enlisted in the army and was attested at Exeter on 10 August 1844. He appears to have enjoyed a chequered career: promoted Corporal in January 1847 he was then confined for a week in October 1848 and on his release was reduced to Private. The following month he was promoted to Corporal once more, but a year later he was confined again, this time for four days. Once again, he was reduced to Private on his release, and retained this rank for the remainder of his service. He nevertheless was given two good conduct rings, 5 November 1851 and 20 August 1854. Although his name is given on his service papers as Vicary, on his Statement of Service and Discharge Paper he clearly signs his name as Vickery.

In 1854 Vickery sailed with his battalion to the Crimea, and saw action in the battles of the Alma, Balaklava, Inkermann and the Siege of Sebastopol. Following these battles a hospital was established at Balaklava, and by June 1855 patients were being removed to better conditions at Scutari under Florence Nightingale's care. He was appointed her orderly cum bodyguard and is mentioned by I.B. O'Malley's Florence Nightingale 1820-56.

Vickery was discharged from the Army at his own request on 3 December 1856, and returned to Devon where he worked as a labourer. He was killed in an accident at Thoverton Mills on 9 December 1871, when his leg was caught in a chaff cutting machine. In addition to a fractured leg he also suffered head injuries and died in the Devon and Exeter hospital shortly afterwards.

The lot is sold with a quantity of mainly photocopied research.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL ROBERT MCDONALD HOWATT joined the Glasgow University Contingent of the Officers Training Corps at the age of sixteen while studying engineering at the Royal Technical College. On the outbreak of war he joined the Army Service Corps (Territorial), transferring to 6/7 Battalion Scottish Fusiliers between 22 March and 20 June 1918. He transferred again to the 18th Battalion Scottish Rifles from 21 June 1918 until the end of the war.

His employers then sent him to London where he joined the London University Contingent of the Officers Training Corps. On returning to Glasgow he rejoined his old Contingent, and on the outbreak of the Second World War he became Adjutant. The Contingent acted as a unit of the Home Guard and was assigned a part in the defence of Scotland in the event of an enemy invasion. Later on during the war he was given command of the Contingent and given the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, 1 September 1950.

Sold with a copy of the address given by Emeritus Professor J.D. Mackie, C.B.E., M.C. at the memorial service for Lieutenant-Colonel Howatt in the University of Glasgow Chapel, 7 February 1957.

Military Cross: London Gazette, 1 January 1917.

MAJOR JOHN BENTCLIFFE GEORGE TAYLOR was born in 1882. In early 1901 he volunteered for the 7th Imperial Yeomanry at Doncaster, serving in the 4th Battalion. After the Boer War he remained in South Africa, working for the New Cape Central Railway. On the outbreak of the Great War in 1914 he enlisted as a Captain in 17th (Western Province) Mounted Rifles, taking part in the invasion of German South West Africa and the capture of Bethany at the beginning of 1915.

Following the successful conclusion of the South West African campaign, he returned to England, joining the 13th Battalion Rifle Brigade, where he was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant on 11 August. On July 10 1916 the 13th Battalion, as part of the 34th Division, was ordered to launch an attack upon the German trenches and, at heavy cost, managed to capture the enemy position. News then arrived that the decision to attack was a mistake and the order was given to cancel it. The losses for the action were assessed at 20 officers and 380 other ranks. For his part in the action Lieutenant Taylor was recommended for the Military Cross. In April 1918 he was placed in temporary command of the Battalion and on 29 October 1920 he relinquished his commission, retaining the rank of Major.

After the war he returned to South Africa, working for the newly established Benguela Railway. On the outbreak of the Second World War he volunteered for service with the Auxiliary Military Pioneer Corps, with the substantive rank of Lieutenant. Major Taylor died in 1960.

The lot is offered with the following documentation, comprising:

'For outstanding leadership, skill and determination in H.M. Ships Starling, Wild Goose, Kite, Woodpecker and Magpie in the destruction of six U-boats in the course of operations covering the passage of convoys in the North Atlantic.'

FRED SMITH was a member of the crew of H.M.S. Magpie.

During October and November 1943 H.M.S. Magpie was part of the 2nd Search Group, serving in the North Atlantic under the command of Captain Walker. In 1944 H.M.S. Magpie continued on North Atlantic duties and on 31 January the convoy she was escorting was proceeding to the west of Ireland when it encountered the damaged German submarine U-592, en route to France for repairs. Magpie and the sloops H.M.S. Starling and H.M.S. Wild Goose engaged and destroyed the U-boat. On 9 February, Magpie, in company with H.M.S. Starling and H.M.S. Kite, sank U-248, and later the same day her group was responsible for the sinking of U-734. The following month the group was detached from the Western Approaches to lend its expertise to Russian convoys, and on 29 March took part in the sinking of U-961.

A Bomber Command Distinguished Flying Medal Group to a Darmstadt Raid Casualty: Four, 14387733 Warrant Officer Rowland Middleton, R.A.F.V.R. 83 Squadron (late 207 Squadron), Distinguished Flying Medal, George VI type 1, 1939-45 Star, Air Crew Europe Star, with France and Germany clasp, War Medal, with Buckingham Palace condolence slip, extremely fine, well toned (4)

£1,800-2,200

Distinguished Flying Medal: London Gazette, 12 November 1943: 'On one occasion Flight-Sergeant Middleton's aircraft was attacked by a Junkers 88 and set on fire, but, with exemplary coolness, he directed such accurate return fire that the hostile aircraft was destroyed. Flight-Sergt. Middleton's courage and efficiency have been conspicuously displayed setting a high standard to the other gunners in his squadron.'

WARRANT OFFICER ROWLAND MIDDLETON was killed on 11 September 1944 during the raid on Darmstadt when he was 21 years old. He is commemorated on the Runnymede Memorial.

Middleton was born in Hunslet, West Yorkshire, educated at Jack Lane School and later joined the Air Training Corps. On leaving school he was employed as an upholsterer by Myers Brothers in Whitehouse Street, Hunslet. He joined the Air Force at the beginning of the war, training as an air gunner with No. 44 course, 4 Squadron. He was subsequently posted to 207 Squadron and later transferred to 83 Squadron, where he remained until his death.

The lot is sold with the following documentation:

Letter from the Air Ministry to Flight Sergeant Middleton's parents, 17 September 1944, informing them that he was missing in action

Four newspaper cuttings, three referring to the award of the D.F.M., the other concerning his parents receiving the D.F.M. at the investiture

A handwritten letter from Flight Sergeant Middleton from which the following extracts are taken:

> …At…? hours on Sunday we "pulled out" of the aerodrome and set off for the North West coast of Germany…
>
> …then later on he said "Here's Hamburg boys and good luck to the poor devils" (meaning the Jerry).
>
> …We then drew over a bank of clouds and approached our target. Then one by one, searchlight beams split the sky, here and there were lights just like a roman candle…
>
> …the ack-ack started, tracers making long "streamers" in the air and flaming onions coming straight for us and every time I thought they were going to hit us…
>
> …Down below in the light of the flares I could see our objective which was the bridge over the Elbe and the dry docks…
>
> …Then the pilot shut off his engines and prepared to "make our run in". And then the automatic bomb doors opened showing the bombs…
> …Bombs gone! And then there was a terrific flash of light which lit up the whole aircraft…

…Suddenly, somewhere at the back of me I could hear guns crackling and then the beam guns on the left hand side of me opened fire and I knew that the Jerry had been pretty near me just then…

…we went straight into some clouds. When we came out again we had lost the Jerry…

…We then made our way back to the dry docks which were lit up by the bridge we had bombed and set on fire. Then all we did was dive and let the whole lot go, we literally plastered it with bombs and when we turned for home the whole issue was ablaze…

…On the way back over Brunsbuttel one of the other kites (manned by a Polish crew) caught a packet in the "blind spot" and we knew they'd "had it." The port engine had been wrenched from its bed which tore off the whole wing…

…After we had crossed the coast I sighted seven fighter aircraft on the starboard which I reported immediately. And which I later identified as Messerschmidtt (sic) B.F. 109s. Then we immediately sped for what cover we could find and there were only a few clouds…

…We then checked up on the gun positions ready for "action". It was then the observer found that the whole rear turret had been shot up in mid-air taking the gunner with it. Then I think I felt a little sick. We finally took cover in the clouds and it was during that time I managed to contact a patrol of Lockheed "Hudson" aircraft patrolling the North Sea. When they arrived the "Jerry" returned for home. I called them yellow for quitting not thinking that we had been "running" to save our necks a few minutes before…

…It just sounds like some sort of fairy story and not a bit like anything that really happened, but I suppose this is nothing to what I will see in time."

A quantity of photographs, many of the recipient, including one taken in Glasgow, 4 May 1943 when the crew of his plane were honoured for completing 100 flights over enemy territory, and one of his parents outside Buckingham Palace, following the investiture, his mother holding his Distinguished Flying Cross

A Fine Bomber Command Distinguished Flying Medal Group: Four, 123636 (1177587) Flying Officer R. E. V. Pugh, 103 Squadron, R.A.F, Distinguished Flying Medal, George VI type 1 (1177587 Sgt.), 1939-45 and Air Crew Europe Stars, War Medal, with original envelope and riband bar for the Distinguished Flying Medal, box of issue and forwarding slip for the Stars and War Medal and Buckingham Palace Condolence Slip in original envelope, extremely fine (4) £3,000-3,500

Distinguished Flying Medal: London Gazette, 4 August 1942 (one of seven awards to 103 Squadron):

'This N.C.O. has displayed superb qualities as a Captain having taken part in 32 sorties, of which 25 were as Captain. He has carried out these attacks with consistent skill and courage. Throughout he has set a high standard of Captaincy. His coolness and determination, frequently in the face of strong enemy opposition, have been an inspiration to all.

One night, returning from a raid on the Ruhr, his aircraft was attacked by a night fighter. His hydraulics were shot through and the undercarriage came down and the bomb doors fell open. Despite this, he handled his aircraft skilfully, giving his rear gunner a chance to fire a burst at the fighter. After two attacks the fighter broke away. Sgt. Pugh then brought his aircraft back to base and made a very good "wheels up" landing.

His enthusiasm, skill and fearlessness in the face of danger and his dogged determination have caused him to be selected for a number of difficult and more dangerous tasks and has carried these out magnificently. His devotion to duty and his fine fighting spirit fully deserve personal recognition and I strongly recommend him for the award of the Distinguished Flying Medal.'

Remarks by Station Commander (as included in the lot):

'This N.C.O., during his 200 hours operational flying with 103 Squadron, has shown that he has outstanding qualities of guts, determination and a complete disregard for his own personal safety. He allows nothing to deter him from hitting his target. As a result, he has always been the first selection to undertake any new or particularly dangerous operations. His offensive spirit and skilful captaincy have been an inspiration to the squadron. I have watched this N.C.O.'s progress and have no hesitation in recommending him for the award of the Distinguished Flying Medal.'

PILOT OFFICER RICHARD ELWYN VAUGHAN PUGH was killed on 26 November 1943, aged 29, when his Lancaster, J.B. 527 'B' was shot down during a raid over Berlin. He is buried in the Berlin Military Cemetery.

During 26/27 November raid on Berlin 28 Lancasters were lost with 103 Squadron suffering the highest percentage losses in Group 1 Lancaster squadrons. Much of Berlin was bombed at this time including the city's Zoo thus allowing many large and dangerous animals to escape.

The lot is sold with a considerable amount of original documentation, comprising:

Oct. 1918.; 1914-15 Star, British War Medal and Victory Medal, with oak leaves for Mention in Despatches (all impressed 17324 Pte. F.G. Miles. Glouc. R.); 1939-45 War Medal and 1937 Coronation Medal (both unnamed as issued), cleaned in the past, very fine, mounted for wearing (6) £70,000-90,000

Victoria Cross: London Gazette: 6 Jan. 1919:

'... For most conspicuous bravery and initiative in attack on 23 Oct. 1918, during the advance against the Bois l'Evêque, when his company was held up by a line of enemy machine guns in the sunken road near the Moulin J.-Jacques. Private Miles alone, and on his own initiative, went forward under exceptionally heavy fire, located a machine gun, shot the gunner, and put the gun out of action. Observing another gun near by, he again advanced alone, shot the gunner, rushed the gun, and captured the team of eight. Finally, he stood up and beckoned to his company who, acting on his signals, were enabled to work round the rear of the line and to capture 16 machine guns, one officer and 50 other ranks. It was due to the courage, initiative and entire disregard of personal safety shown by this very gallant soldier that the company was enabled to advance at a time when any delay would have jeopardised seriously the whole operation.'

FRANCIS GEORGE MILES was born at Clearwell, in the Forest of Dean, on 9 July 1896. Only 5' 4" in height, he became a miner employed by the Princess Royal Colliery Company. He enlisted in the 9th Gloucesters in December 1914 and went to France for the first time in September 1915. Unable to go to Salonika with his battalion owing to a poisoned foot, he was subsequently attached to the 8th Gloucesters and also to the Royal Engineers, where his trade served him well in tunnelling operations. In July 1917 he was wounded when blown up and buried by a mine explosion and was invalided home, recuperating at Halifax (Yorkshire). Keen to resume active service on his recovery, he was sent to Italy to join the 5th Gloucesters, remaining there until the regiment was sent to reinforce the 25th Division in France (in August, 1918). He was the first and remains, to date, the only private soldier in the Glosters to receive the Victoria Cross.

After the war Miles returned home where the parishioners of Clearwell, stated in a 1918 newspaper report to have produced more soldiers in proportion to its size than any other village in England, presented him with a gold watch (see lot 466). He joined the Territorial Army (Monmouth Regiment) for a spell in the 1920s before re-enlisting with the Glosters on the outbreak of the Second World War. He was finally discharged in June 1940 with the testimonial 'A man of excellent character clean and willing who deserves well of his country'.

Miles attended many V.C. reunions, notably the 1956 Centenary Review. He died in 1961 and was buried at Clearwell, where a new headstone was dedicated at a ceremony on 22 May 2004; his medals were carried on that occasion by his son, the late Christopher Miles.

The lot is sold with the following additional items (see also lots 464-466 below):

Three original Certificates of Transfer to Reserve and Discharge

Gloucestershire Regiment cap and shoulder badges, a lapel badge of the Gloucestershire Regimental Association, and spare V.C. ribbon

Framed photographs (5), comprising a large portrait in uniform (wearing ribands of the V.C. and 1914-15 Star), three of ceremonial occasions in France, and one portrait at the Clearwell War Memorial, dated 1952

END OF SALE

Conditions of Business for Buyers

1. Introduction

(a) The contractual relationship of Morton & Eden Ltd. and Sellers with prospective Buyers is governed by:-
(i) these Conditions of Business for Buyers;
(ii) the Conditions of Business for Sellers displayed in the saleroom and available from Morton & Eden Ltd.;
(iii) Morton & Eden Ltd.'s Authenticity Guarantee;
(iv) any additional notices and terms printed in the sale catalogue, in each case as amended by any saleroom notice or auctioneer's announcement.

(b) As auctioneer, Morton & Eden Ltd. acts as agent for the Seller. Occasionally, Morton & Eden Ltd. may own or have a financial interest in a lot.

2. Definitions

"Bidder" is any person making, attempting or considering making a bid, including Buyers;
"Buyer" is the person who makes the highest bid or offer accepted by the auctioneer, including a Buyer's principal when bidding as agent;
"Seller" is the person offering a lot for sale, including their agent, or executors;
"M&E" means Morton & Eden Ltd., auctioneers, 45 Maddox Street, London W1S 2PE, company number 4198353.
"Buyer's Expenses" are any costs or expenses due to Morton & Eden Ltd. from the Buyer;
"Buyer's Premium" is the commission payable by the Buyer on the Hammer Price at the rates set out in the Guide for Prospective Buyers;
"Hammer Price" is the highest bid for the Property accepted by the auctioneer at the auction or the post auction sale price;
"Purchase Price" is the Hammer Price plus applicable Buyer's Premium and Buyer's Expenses;
"Reserve Price" (where applicable) is the minimum Hammer Price at which the Seller has agreed to sell a lot.

The Buyer's Premium, Buyer's Expenses and Hammer Price are subject to VAT, where applicable.

3. Examination of Lots

(a) M&E's knowledge of lots is partly dependent on information provided by the Seller and M&E is unable to exercise exhaustive due diligence on each lot. Each lot is available for examination before sale. Bidders are responsible for carrying out examinations and research before sale to satisfy themselves over the condition of lots and accuracy of descriptions.

(b) All oral and/or written information provided to Bidders relating to lots, including descriptions in the catalogue, condition reports or elsewhere are statements of M&E's opinion and not representations of fact. Estimates may not be relied on as a prediction of the selling price or value of the lot and may be revised from time to time at M&E's absolute discretion.

4. Exclusions and limitations of liability to Buyers

(a) M&E shall refund the Purchase Price to the Buyer in circumstances where it deems that the lot is a Counterfeit, subject to the terms of M&E's Authenticity Guarantee.

(b) Subject to Condition 4(a), neither M&E nor the Seller:-
(i) is liable for any errors or omissions in any oral or written information provided to Bidders by M&E, whether negligent or otherwise;
(ii) gives any guarantee or warranty to Bidders and any implied warranties and conditions are excluded (save in so far as such obligations cannot be excluded by English law), other than the express warranties given by the Seller to the Buyer (for which the Seller is solely responsible) under the Conditions of Business for Sellers;
(iii) accepts responsibility to Bidders for acts or omissions (whether negligent or otherwise) by M&E in connection with the conduct of auctions or for any matter relating to the sale of any lot.

(c) Without prejudice to Condition 4(b), any claim against M&E and/ or the Seller by a Bidder is limited to the Purchase Price for the relevant lot. Neither M&E nor the Seller shall be liable for any indirect or consequential losses.

(d) Nothing in Condition 4 shall exclude or limit the liability of M&E or the Seller for death or personal injury caused by the negligent acts or omissions of M&E or the Seller.

5. Bidding at Auction

(a) M&E has absolute discretion to refuse admission to the auction. Before sale, Bidders must complete a Registration Form and supply such information and references as M&E requires. Bidders are personally liable for their bid and are jointly and severally liable with their principal, if bidding as agent (in which case M&E's prior and express consent must be obtained).

(b) M&E advises Bidders to attend the auction, but M&E will endeavour to execute absentee written bids provided that they are, in M&E's opinion, received in sufficient time and in legible form.
(c) When available, written and telephone bidding is offered as a free service at the Bidder's risk and subject to M&E's other commitments; M&E is therefore not liable for failure to execute such bids. Telephone bidding may be recorded.

6. Import, Export and Copyright Restrictions

M&E and the Seller make no representations or warranties as to whether any lot is subject to import, export or copyright restrictions. It is the Buyer's sole responsibility to obtain any copyright clearance or any necessary import, export or other licence required by law, including licenses required under the Convention on the International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES).

7. Conduct of the Auction

(a) The auctioneer has discretion to refuse bids, withdraw or re-offer lots for sale (including after the fall of the hammer) if (s)he believes that there may be an error or dispute, and may also take such other action as (s)he reasonably deems necessary.

(b) The auctioneer will commence and advance the bidding in such increments as (s)he considers appropriate and is entitled to place bids on the Seller's behalf up to the Reserve Price for the lot, where applicable.

(c) Subject to Condition 7(a), the contract between the Buyer and the Seller is concluded on the striking of the auctioneer's hammer.

(d) Any post-auction sale of lots shall incorporate these Conditions of Business.

8. Payment and Collection

(a) Unless otherwise agreed in advance, payment of the Purchase Price is due in pounds sterling immediately after the auction (the "Payment Date").

(b) Title in a lot will not pass to the Buyer until M&E has received the Purchase Price in cleared funds. M&E will generally not release a lot to a Buyer before payment. Earlier release shall not affect passing of title or the Buyer's obligation to pay the Purchase Price, as above.

(c) The refusal of any licence or permit required by law, as outlined in Condition 6, shall not affect the Buyer's obligation to pay for the lot, as per Condition 8(a).

(d) The Buyer must arrange collection of lots within 10 working days of the auction. Purchased lots are at the Buyer's risk from the earlier of (i) collection or (ii) 10 working days after the auction. Until risk passes, M&E will compensate the Buyer for any loss or damage to the lot up to a maximum of the Purchase Price actually paid by the Buyer. M&E's assumption of risk is subject to the exclusions detailed in Condition 5(d) of the Conditions of Business for Sellers.

(e) All packing and handling of lots is at the Buyer's risk. M&E will not be liable for any acts or omissions of third party packers or shippers.

9. Remedies for non-payment

Without prejudice to any rights that the Seller may have, if the Buyer without prior agreement fails to make payment for the lot within 5 working days of the auction, M&E may in its sole discretion exercise 1 or more of the following remedies:-

(a) store the lot at its premises or elsewhere at the Buyer's sole risk and expense;

(b) cancel the sale of the lot;

(c) set off any amounts owed to the Buyer by M&E against any amounts owed to M&E by the Buyer for the lot;

(d) reject future bids from the Buyer;

(e) charge interest at 4% per annum above Lloyds TSB Bank plc Base Rate from the Payment Date to the date that the Purchase Price is received in cleared funds;

(f) re-sell the lot by auction or privately, with estimates and reserves at M&E's discretion, in which case the Buyer will be liable for any shortfall between the original Purchase Price and the amount achieved on re-sale, including all costs incurred in such re-sale;

(g) Exercise a lien over any Buyer's Property in M&E's possession, applying the sale proceeds to any amounts owed by the Buyer to M&E. M&E shall give the Buyer 14 days written notice before exercising such lien;

(h) commence legal proceedings to recover the Purchase Price for the lot, plus interest and legal costs;

(i) disclose the Buyer's details to the Seller to enable the Seller to commence legal proceedings.

10. Failure to collect purchases

(a) If the Buyer pays the Purchase Price but does not collect the lot within 20 working days of the auction, the lot will be stored at the Buyer's expense and risk at M&E's premises or in independent storage.

(b) If a lot is paid for but uncollected within 6 months of the auction, following 60 days written notice to the Buyer, M&E will re-sell the lot by auction or privately, with estimates and reserves at M&E's discretion. The sale proceeds, less all M&E's costs, will be forfeited unless collected by the Buyer within 2 years of the original auction.

11. Data Protection

(a) M&E will use information supplied by Bidders or otherwise obtained lawfully by M&E for the provision of auction related services, client administration, marketing and as otherwise required by law.

(b) By agreeing to these Conditions of Business, the Bidder agrees to the processing of their personal information and to the disclosure of such information to third parties world-wide for the purposes outlined in Condition 11(a) and to Sellers as per Condition 9(i).

12. Miscellaneous

(a) All images of lots, catalogue descriptions and all other materials produced by M&E are the copyright of M&E.

(b) These Conditions of Business are not assignable by any Buyer without M&E's prior written consent, but are binding on Bidders' successors, assigns and representatives.

(c) The materials listed in Condition 1(a) set out the entire agreement between the parties.

(d) If any part of these Conditions of Business be held unenforceable, the remaining parts shall remain in full force and effect.

(e) These Conditions of Business shall be interpreted in accordance with English Law, under the exclusive jurisdiction of the English Courts, in favour of M&E.

Morton & Eden Ltd.'s Authenticity Guarantee

If Morton & Eden Ltd. sells an item of Property which is later shown to be a "Counterfeit", subject to the terms below Morton & Eden Ltd. will rescind the sale and refund the Buyer the total amount paid by the Buyer to Morton & Eden Ltd. for that Property, up to a maximum of the Purchase Price.

The Guarantee lasts for two (2) years after the date of the relevant auction, is for the benefit of the Buyer only and is non-transferable.

"Counterfeit" means an item of Property that in Morton & Eden Ltd.'s reasonable opinion is an imitation created with the intent to deceive over the authorship, origin, date, age, period, culture or source, where the correct description of such matters is not included in the catalogue description for the Property.
Property shall not be considered Counterfeit solely because of any damage and/or restoration and/or modification work (including, but not limited to, traces of mounting, tooling or repatinating).
Please note that this Guarantee does not apply if either:-

(i) the catalogue description was in accordance with the generally accepted opinions of scholars and experts at the date of the sale, or the catalogue description indicated that there was a conflict of such opinions; or

(ii) the only method of establishing at the date of the sale that the item was a Counterfeit would have been by means of processes not then generally available or accepted, unreasonably expensive or impractical; or likely to have caused damage to or loss in value to the Property (in Morton & Eden Ltd.'s reasonable opinion); or

(iii) there has been no material loss in value of the Property from its value had it accorded with its catalogue description.

To claim under this Guarantee, the Buyer must:-

(i) notify Morton & Eden Ltd. in writing within one (1) month of receiving any information that causes the Buyer to question the authenticity or attribution of the Property, specifying the lot number, date of the auction at which it was purchased and the reasons why it is believed to be Counterfeit; and

(ii) return the Property to Morton & Eden Ltd. in the same condition as at the date of sale and be able to transfer good title in the Property, free from any third party claims arising after the date of the sale.

Morton & Eden Ltd. has discretion to waive any of the above requirements. Morton & Eden Ltd. may require the Buyer to obtain at the Buyer's cost the reports of two independent and recognised experts in the relevant field and acceptable to Morton & Eden Ltd. Morton & Eden Ltd. shall not be bound by any reports produced by the Buyer, and reserves the right to seek additional expert advice at its own expense. In the event Morton & Eden Ltd. decides to rescind the sale under this Guarantee, it may refund to the Buyer the reasonable costs of up to two mutually approved independent expert reports, provided always that the costs of such reports have been approved in advance and in writing by Morton & Eden Ltd.
